

ONE BODY

“Brothers and sisters: “Just as the body is one and has many members, so it is with Christ”.

We have just concluded the “week of prayers for Christian Unity” and St. Paul in his letter to the Corinthians is bringing out this beautiful image, of the body, which is composed of many members. And this is also very important not only for Christians at large, but also for the unity inside the Christian community, like our parish.

We are very fortunate and very rich in our community with so many groups, ministries and volunteers, who are seriously engaged in their faith. The variety of five ethnic communities, the beauty of so many ministries and services and the sincere participation of so many people are a clear sign that we are “one body”.

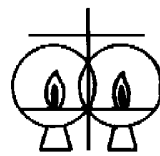

Naturally each one of the members are doing their own specific job and service, and they all are different and necessary. The eye is not more important than the foot; the nose is not less important than the mouth and the lungs are not less important than the heart. All are necessary for the harmonious progress of the body. The same is for the community. The priest is important, but if there are no faithful his ministry is tremendously reduced. The janitor is as important as the deacon and the children are as important as the catechists. A prayer group is as important as the choir or the youth group.

When we work in cooperation and mutual support, the body of the community is growing well. But we cannot ignore the differences of each member or group. Actually differences are important because they give us another way of looking and doing things together. Differences, when integrated into the whole, are a richness and a growth. It takes some time to get acquainted and used to it, but then the result is secured.

At our parish we want to welcome and integrate many different types of services, ministries and cultural traditions, because we are convinced that at the end we will secure a harmonious growth in our faith and in our unity.
